

IMPORTANT NOTICES

Federal law requires that you distribute certain legal notices regarding insurance rights and health plan coverage to employees:

- At time of hire
- At initial enrollment in a health plan
- During re-enrollment

Reference the chart below to view the notices, as well as the times they should be distributed. Employers should furnish employees with any of these forms upon request.

An employer must meet Department of Labor (DOL) criteria to distribute required health plan notices electronically. If the employer does not meet the DOL criteria, the employer must provide printed copies. However, if an employee requests a notice electronically, the employer can reply and attach the notice. For more information, see the section on DOL electronic notice criteria.

**DEPARTMENT OF LABOR (DOL) ELECTRONIC NOTICE CRITERIA

Please consult the specific DOL criteria and rules at 29 CFR Part 2520.104b-1. Generally, the DOL allows electronic distribution of these forms if the forms are prepared and furnished in a manner to ensure actual receipt by the employees (all participants in the health plan). The DOL requires that:

- Your system for furnishing the form must result in actual receipt of the form, and you should periodically confirm the delivery of the forms (e.g., using return receipts, identifying undeliverable messages or otherwise confirming receipt of transmitted information).
- You must protect the employee's confidentiality by incorporating into your electronic information system measures designed to preclude unauthorized receipt of or access to the employee's information.
- For forms provided in a DOL-mandated format (e.g., the Summary), you are not permitted to change the format.
- You must forward the form with a statement that explains the document's significance and the employee's right to a paper copy.

Electronic distribution can be made to employees with work-related computer access and employees who have affirmatively consented to receive electronic notices. Specifically, provided the above criteria are met:

- You may make an electronic disclosure to an employee who has the ability to access documents at any location where the employee reasonably could be expected to perform employment duties and whose access to your electronic information system is an integral part of those employment duties.
- You may make an electronic disclosure to an employee who does not have work-related computer access only if you receive affirmative consent from that employee. Note that the DOL requires specific, detailed consent for disclosures made over the internet or other electronic communication network. Generally, prior to consenting, the employee must be given a clear and conspicuous statement describing the processes for giving consent, withdrawing consent and accessing forms in the future. Additionally, if you change your software or hardware requirements for accessing these forms, you must provide a new statement and request new consent from the employee.

For specific DOL criteria and rules, please read the DOL's publication 29 CFR Part 2520.104b-1.

Employers who determine they satisfy the DOL requirements for electronic delivery of required Summaries must include the required DOL statement provided below:

"The Summary of Benefits and Coverage was created to help consumers more easily compare plans and understand their insurance benefits. You may also request a printed copy at any time."

Note: There are several health plan notices that GuideStone is not required to provide to enrollees. This occurs when the notice requirements are included under Title 1 of ERISA. While GuideStone health plans are not subject to the Title 1 of ERISA notice requirements, GuideStone medical plans still provide the required level of coverage.
